Our teachers offer it in the guise of knowledge

It is strengthened by participation in sports and activities

It is a firm clause in our Contract of Life.

A lasting gift from Needham High School.

But we must remember in our adult life to keep friendship in constant repair.

"No man is useless while he has a friend."

NEEDHAM TOWN HALL

DEDICATION

To the town of Needham, celebrating its 250th anniversary this year, we dedicate the Advocate for 1961. We feel that the town of Needham is aware of the importance of its youth as potential leaders, and that it strives to develop youth academically, with its outstanding school system; physically, with its wide range of recreational facilities; and spiritually, by virtue of its homes and churches.
We are grateful to have been a part of "Our Town."

Dr. Derwood A. Newman

To Dr. Newman, on his retirement, we join with parents and teachers of Needham in saying "Thank You" for his guidance and dedicated service. For sixteen years, as Superintendent of Schools, he has shown his devotion to the field of education throughout the school system by constantly encouraging high standards of educational achievement. "Here culminates sixteen-year voyage of discovery, growth and fulfillment in an ideal environment." In any measure of success we may have achieved in this "voyage," we thank Dr. Newman for his faithful guidance.

IN MEMORIAM

As we look back over the friendships we have enjoyed in our school years, we are saddened by the loss of one of them. Bruce Keith was known to most of us for his participation in sports, Student Council, and other class activities. In addition to these interests, Bruce was artistic and was interested in art. For this reason, a collection of books on impressionistic art was presented to the memorial collection in the school library in Bruce's name.

Heiko

Our German

Heiko

Heiko Schudt, sponsored by the Needham Exchange Club, came to Needham from Kirtoff in Oberhessen, Germany, to make his home with Roger Greene and his family. "Jake" became an active member of Needham High, joining the Ski Club, Hilltopper staff, and becoming vice-president of Camera Club, as well as participating in cross-country and track. In remembering Heiko, we will think of his sincere desire to learn, his eagerness to make friends here in America, his avid interest in photography, and his German introduction for "Heiko's Hungry Five" at the Pops Concert wearing his lederhosen and feathered cap.

Exchange Students.

Beate

Beate

Beate Wedepohl's stay in Needham was sponsored by the Methodist Youth Fellowship in cooperation with the International Christian Youth Exchange. During her year in Needham with her American sister, Martha Steeves, Beate has made many friends with her roguish sense of humor, her easy-going manner, and her friendly "Hi" for everyone. She has acquired an interest for American sports, especially football and hockey. Beate was also quick to pick up traditional American expressions and customs. Although much of Beate's time was taken up with speaking engagements about her home in Biedenkopf, Lahn, Germany, she enjoyed attending the high school dances and athletic events in her spare time.

Jim's good deed for the day.

Class of 1961

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS—Nancy Mazzone, treasurer; John McGill, vice-president; David Svendsen, president; Sally Thompson, secretary.

The senior class again showed its traditional spirit and enthusiasm in its class activities; especially elections, complete with capable candidates, hard-working campaigners, and posters. Aptly led by the tall David Svendsen, the Class of 1961 has achieved great heights, both academically and athletically.

Among the memories of our four years are our freshman picnic at Whalom Park, "Riviera Rendevous" and Canobie Lake our sophomore year, and our Junior Prom, "Fantasy in Gold." Our junior year was saddened, however, by the passing of our classmate, Bruce Keith.

In our final year we remember with nostalgia our various senior activities: our Senior Breakfast, our dramatic production "Guest in the House," our Senior Prom, and our Class Day and graduation exercises. The class is indebted to the able leadership of our officers: David Svendsen, President; Jack McGill, Vice-President; Sally Thompson, Secretary; and Nancy Mazzone, Treasurer. We also want to express our gratitude to our class advisors, Mr. Maletz, Mrs. Perry, Mr. Peterson, and Mr. Siegel, who have guided us throughout our four years. When we leave Needham High School, we will take with us the memories of wonderful friends and experiences.

The combination of an outstanding cast and the expert direction of Mr. Gilbert J. Paraschos resulted in the professional quality of the production of the Class of 1961 play, "Guest in the House," by Hagar Wilde and Dale Eunson. The success of the taut psychological drama was evident in the emotional reaction of the audience at both the December 9th and 10th performances.

Amid strains of Liebestraum, Evelyn, interpreted by Melanie Webb, creates distrust between the husband and wife, played by Nick Hardin and Barbara Rider. Gail Bieber adeptly handled the part of the sensible Aunt Martha, who alone is able to see through Evelyn's insidious schemes and prevent her from ruining the Proctor family. In addition, the acting skill of the supporting cast gave the performance polish, especially the delightful antics of Linda Smith as Lee.

The emotional intensity of the final scene climaxed the dramatic performance. The sight of Evelyn, who is terrified by birds, when she saw the empty bird cage; and the sound of Aunt Martha's "Look!" followed by Evelyn's hysterical scream will remain indelibly imprinted on the mind of the audience.

The play was memorable for the cast too—the many cast parties, late rehearsals, flying Papa-schos', and Matt Lambert's unforgettable witticism, "Santa, did we get our dates mixed?"

UNDERCLASSMEN

Penetrating the realm of upperclassmen, the Juniors entered wholeheartedly into the spirit of the school. They have contributed many leaders to sports, activities, and intellectual pursuits. Led by President Dale Wise, Vice-president Tom Connors, Secretary Judy Allbee, and Treasurer Ginny Sparkes, the class has overcome the many barriers and shown their ability and desire to work together. An example of this unity was the successful Junior Prom, "Harbor Lights." The assistance of the class advisors, Mr. Clarence Allen, Miss Alvord, Mr. Goldberg, and Mr. Protheroe, helped the class officers considerably in planning the prom and other class activities. The Juniors are proud of their class and confident that next year will represent the culmination of their high school achievement.

Class of 1963

1960-1961 was the second year in which the Class of 1963 was the youngest class on the hill. They elected Jeff Rowe to a second term as class president. To complete the list of class officers, they elected Pete Hazard, Vice-president; Robert Miller, Secretary; and Robert Stevenson, Treasurer. Led by such masculinity, the class completed its second successful year on the hill.

From the top floor of the A building to the bottom floor of the C building, sophomores, sophomores, and more sophomores filled the halls for they are the largest class in the school. Thanks to the cooperation of the officers and faculty advisors, Mr. Gerbino, Mr. Kline, Mrs. Dow and Mr. Osgood, the class of 384 students was not hampered by its size.

CURRICULUM

English with Miss McKenzie.

English

The English Department, under the direction of Mr. John Ferrett, once again excelled in its presentation of English grammar, composition, and literature to the students. Students able to proceed at a more rapid pace than in the regular courses participated in the Accelerated English Program where they could develop more rapidly through intensive instruction in composition and extensive supplementary reading. On the Senior level, accelerated students took an Advanced Placement course in which the material covered was equivalent to college freshman English.

This year, the English teachers standardized the procedure for correcting papers. Through the use of the opaque projector, each student's composition could be evaluated on an equal basis.

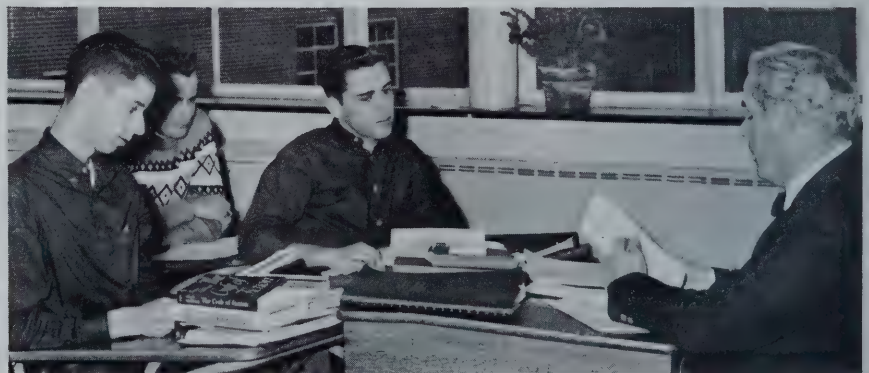

The Harvard interns, Miss McKenzie and Miss Roemer each took Junior and Senior English classes for a half year under Mr. Ferrett's supervision.

The English Department curriculum included the Experimental Writing and Speech classes. The Speech course aimed at instilling self-confidence in the student while giving oral reports. Use of the tape recorder proved invaluable in teaching proper diction.

Members of the English Department edited material for the Rag, supervised the Bookstore, and advised the publications staffs of the Advocate and Hilltopper.

"Write that down!"

"That's a perfect example of petitio principii."

Languages

The Language Department, under the direction of Miss Harrington, has modernized and expanded its program this year, to meet today's educational standards. In addition to the regular French, German, Latin, and Spanish courses, accelerated programs were offered to qualified students in French I, II, and III, and Latin II. Both Russian I and Russian II were also available, taught by Dr. Francis Cleaves, Chairman of the Far Eastern Language Department at Harvard University.

The Language Laboratory was the latest addition to the department's facilities. This modern equipment has a capacity of twenty-four students and enables them to improve their aural comprehension and oral skill simultaneously. Students hear recorded lectures and conversations. They also take tests, recording their answers on their individual tapes. When the tapes are played back, the student is able to hear his own recorded answers and to compare them with the correct answers. Thus he may check his pronunciation as well as his grammar.

An addition to the modern language program initiated this year was the "Madi Gras," held on February 10. Similar to the Roman Banquet which was held in May, at the "Madi Gras" the students of French, German, Russian, and Spanish dressed in costumes of the various countries and participated in skits, folk dances, and singing of folk songs.

Social Studies

The Social Studies Department, under the direction of Mr. Henry Hicks, has maintained its customary high standards this year. Improvements in teaching techniques rather than changes in the curriculum were stressed. The department offered two programs of study to students: Early European History, Modern European History, U.S. History, Economics and Sociology; or Civics and Geography, World History, U.S. History, Economics and Sociology.

Teachers in the department with specialized background often gave lectures to combined classes in their field. The department participated in student-teacher programs and expanded classroom libraries to include original source material and advanced texts. This year students participated in many conferences and discussions, such as the mock United Nation's Assembly in Wellesley. These opportunities enabled them to exchange ideas with students from all parts of the country. Since the National Convention of Social Studies Teachers met in Boston this year, the faculty was able to exchange teaching techniques with colleagues from every state. The Social Studies Department plans to initiate an accelerated U.S. History class next fall.

The national election provided opportunities for student participation in political debates and mock elections.

The Great Debate.

Math

The Mathematics Department of Needham High School continued to provide a progressive program for its students. Headed by Miss Fessenden, the department offered four accelerated classes: two for Sophomore geometry, one for Junior algebra, and one for Senior Math IV. The Seniors studied from a college text, Elements of Calculus and Analytic Geometry, written by Thomas of M.I.T. In addition, two special School Mathematics Study Groups were taught to selected Sophomores by Mr. Siegel.

Under the direction of Mr. Walsh, a slide rule class was organized and added to the mathematics program. It met during organization period and provided an opportunity for students to gain a fundamental knowledge of the slide rule and its operations.

The Mathematics Department presented an assembly on Univac with a film and a speaker, Mr. Edward Marzo, who spoke on the industrial use of data processing machines.

In March, the department held a mathematics workshop for Junior High teachers and teachers from surrounding towns. In April, the department was represented at a mathematics workshop at Andover, Mass. The Mathematics Department, always keeping in pace with any worthwhile changes of the time, offer students knowledge of the most recent events in the field of mathematics.

Science

The Science department is progressing with its plans to offer more attractive Science courses to Needham High School students. In the fall of 1961, Juniors who have completed the necessary mathematics requirements will be allowed to elect Physics. A course in Advanced Placement Physics will be offered to eligible students in the fall of 1962. In addition, there will be a course in Advanced Placement Biology offered as soon as all details are attended to and approval is granted, possibly next fall. The department has also participated in the Science Count-downs.

Many more department members are taking advantage of the National Science Foundation Grants for summer and academic year study. Their assignments vary from Cancer research work at the Jackson Laboratory, study as full time students at Simmons College, Xavier University, Worcester Tech, and many others.

The department was honored by the Boston Edison Company in October when Mark Anderson and Mr. Bongarzone were chosen to attend the Atoms for Peace Conference in Chicago. They were entertained royally and it was a most stimulating and memorable experience for them.

"Doesn't it add up right?"

"Don't look at the keys!"

Commercial Subjects

Miss Lewis' Commercial Department provided again this year excellent training for students planning on a career in business. The basic skills of typing and shorthand were taken by many college preparatory students as well since the knowledge of these techniques would be invaluable in college.

A new notehand course taught by Mrs. Gaudreau, was introduced into the curriculum this year. It was an abbreviated form of phonetic shorthand especially useful in taking class notes. The class met twice a week during Tuesday and Friday organization periods.

Typewriting I, II, and III were offered this year providing a progression from a simple working knowledge of the typewriter to enable students to type letters, manuscripts, and tabulation exercises, through complex tabulation set-ups and various letter forms, to transcription, rex-o-graph masters, and dictaphone practice. The Stenography course stressed shorthand and transcription.

The Commercial Law and Salesmanship students investigated law and legal procedure, business contracts, sales agreements, insurance, and other forms common in a business office. Students in the Office Practice class learned office procedures by doing clerical work and typing for the school office and members of the faculty. They also learned how to operate the calculator, comptometer, and other modern office machines.

The aim of the Bookkeeping course was to train students in the use of various forms used in keeping business records.

Industrial Arts

The Industrial Arts Department, under Mr. Pelletier's direction, provides students with skills fundamental to employment in industry and to an understanding of industrial processes.

A basic knowledge of machines, tools, and their operation is invaluable to the mechanic, the engineering technician, the draftsman, the engineer, and the machinist. Welding and foundry practice also aid students in their understanding of industrial processes. The wood, metal, and auto shop facilities enable the students to perfect their workmanship.

Experience and knowledge gained in the shops and drawing room provide students with a better foundation upon which to base their selection of a life's occupation as they enter industry or continue their education after high school.

"Watch your fingers!"

"Don't forget the salt!"

Practical Arts

This year Mrs. Kinchla taught both Home Economics and Home and Family Living courses. The Home Economics course for Sophomores and Juniors included the fundamentals of sewing and cooking. The Home and Family Living course for Seniors included discussion of alcohol, narcotics, child care, nutrition, and teenage problems. In discussing teenage problems, the girls could put their questions into a "question-box." While studying child care, the classes gave a Christmas party for children in order to watch and learn from the reactions of one toward another. As a culmination of their nutrition study, the Senior girls of the classes managed the third annual successful Senior Breakfast, one of the high spots of the Senior year.

Reading

Under the direction of Miss Tormey, the Developmental Reading course emphasized vocabulary enrichment, study skills, speed in reading, and reading comprehension. Students were not required to take reading this year, but were encouraged to elect it on the recommendation of their guidance counselor or English teacher. The Developmental Reading course received widespread recognition this year, with visitors from as far as Los Angeles. The course has continued to be one of the foremost of its type in this area and equal to the best in the country.

Fine Arts

The Art and Music Appreciation course, taught by Mr. Nardi and Mr. Rourke, aimed at providing the students with an adequate background to recognize quality in the fine arts. Mr. Nardi took the music appreciation class on Monday, Tuesday, and Friday, during which the students gained a knowledge of instruments, composers, forms of music and various periods of music.

On Wednesday and Thursday, Mr. Rourke taught the class art appreciation. These periods provided a generalized history for identification of artists and their works, and the various forms of art. Class work was supplemented with trips to the Museum of Fine Arts and Mrs. Jack Gardener's Palace.

Art courses, under the direction of Mr. Enos gave the students experience with different art mediums as well as a historical survey of art.

Working on the stained glass window.

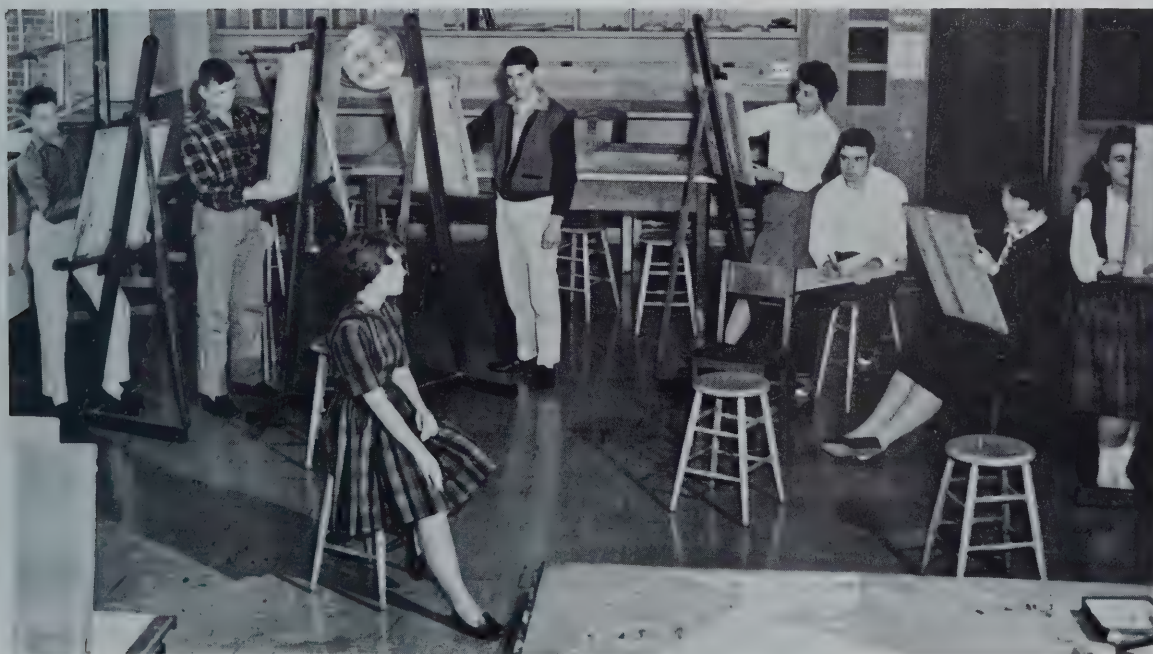

The Experimental Writing classes taught by Mr. Paraschos, Mrs. Roberts, and Mr. Hamilton were workshop courses in which individual development was stressed. The students were able to experiment with various literary forms including poetry, short stories, plays, and novelettes. They were able to improve their writing through practice, technical knowledge, and mutual criticism in class.

Driver Education

The Driver Education program, directed by Mr. Muir, continued its expansion this year. Due to the large number of students, seniors receive preference over underclassmen. Birth date further determines group division. The course includes thirty hours of classroom instruction and a minimum of six hours driving and six hours observing. The student receives a certificate entitling him to a reduction in automobile insurance.

The instructors, Mr. Muir, Mr. Breunig, Mr. Cosgrove, Mr. Gerbino, and Mr. Osgood stress the development of proper driving techniques and proper mental attitudes towards the law and the rights of others. The course is presented in three divisions: (1) Massachusetts law, (2) development of proper attitudes and skills, and (3) automobile mechanics. The instructors also appreciate the help of the parents who instill in their children proper respect for the law and for road safety.

"What is the right of way law?"

First Aid

The Red Cross Standard First Aid classes were offered again this year to all students. Accident prevention and safety were stressed throughout the course, but the highlight of the program was the practice sessions for learning the skills. Miss Claire Callan was assisted by Mrs. Francis Haines and Red Cross instructor Mrs. Mildred Bush.

The Health Careers Club was organized this year under the direction of Miss Claire Callan, assisted by Mrs. Haines, for students interested in pursuing a career in some phase of health; such as medicine, nursing, dental hygiene, physio-therapy, occupational therapy or social work. Meetings were held twice a month after school.

"Does it hurt?"

"In case of accident call . . ."

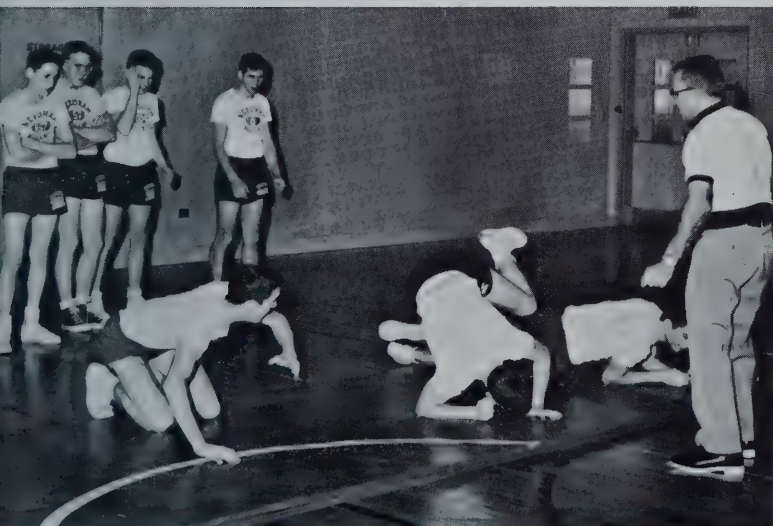

"Lunge!"

Physical Education

The aim of the boys' physical education program directed by Mr. Maloney and Mr. DeFazio, was to develop good sportsmanship and leadership abilities as well as good physical condition.

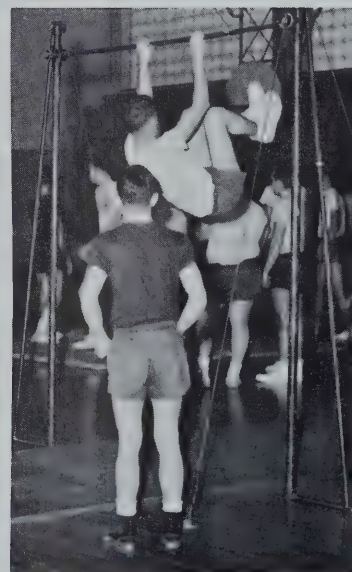

At the beginning of the year, all boys took a physical fitness test to determine the overall condition of each individual. Their placement in apparatus is based on the results of this test.

Fall and spring gym classes were built around team sports, while the winter was devoted principally to apparatus work and weight conditioning. The Weight Conditioning Club, new this year, was made possible by the aquisition of new weight lifting equipment. The boys worked out during Monday Organization periods on schedules set up by Mr. Maloney.

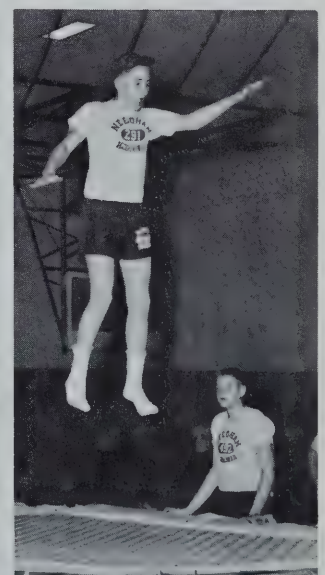

Miss Brown and Mrs. Freno incorporated into the girls' physical education program those activities which interested the girls and contributed to their physical health. The line dances that the girls learned in the fall were particularly popular. The girls also worked on apparatus, developing their individual abilities.

The Girls' Gym Meet represented the culmination of the girls' class work in marching, apparatus, and tennis drills, as well as special demonstrations by the Apparatus and Modern Dance Clubs.

The sports program included field hockey, basketball, tennis, and softball. Several girls also became members of the new track organization—the Massasoit Athletic Club.

The Bookstore

The Bookstore, under Mr. Hamilton's supervision, has been highly successful this year in offering required and elective reading selections from all departments. The paperbacks are invaluable to students since owning personal copies enable them to mark the books for a future reference, a quick review, or for research on term papers. At the same time, the student can build an inexpensive personal library. Students could order any fiction or non-fiction printed in a paperback edition through the Bookstore. Profits from the sales were used to help subsidize the school's literary publications.

Members of the English department, under the direction of Mr. Lee Allen, edited the June 1961 volume of Even A Rag Like This, Needham High School's anthology of student writing.

One of the major items put out by Needham High School Publications, the Rag was managed by Nick Nardin on business and Rick Andrias on circulation. The book contains essays, poetry, short stories, critical reviews and essays, and a few full length documented papers representing a wide variety of students and student writing.

Student Council

The Student Council is a unique organization in that it coördinates the viewpoints of the faculty, administration, and students. Its members are elected each year in class-wide elections. The officers elected for 1960-1961 were: Doug King, president; Tom Conners, vice-president; Bonnie Whitney, secretary; and Martha Oakman, treasurer.

In cooperation with the advisors, Mr. Skinner and Mrs. Gaudreau, the Student Council successfully completed a Winter Fashion Show and the sale of Booster tickets. In its efforts throughout the year the Student Council has displayed the will and ability of youth to govern itself with effectiveness and competence.

Library Club

Mrs. Wagner and Mrs. Bates added a new feature to this year's library club. Mrs. Wagner conducted a series of lectures on various library techniques for the ninety club members in order to provide the school with more efficient service. The instruction benefited the members not only as students but also gave them a background for future professional work. As before, the Library Club served in many capacities: working at the desk, shelving books, and arranging displays. The club elected Marcia Stubbs, president; Jean Eaton, vice-president; and Ellen Chisolm, secretary, to assist Mrs. Wagner.

Entertainment during the half.

The Needham High School band is the foundation of our school spirit. Over eighty members participate in almost every school function. Football games, pep rallies, and assemblies would not have been the same without the enthusiasm of Mr. Harris and the band. The officers elected were Ed McGlasten, president; Ken Joy, vice-president; Karen Patitz, secretary; and Betsey Tarr, treasurer. The Band Parents' Club presented a Pops Concert in December to finance the successful exchange trip with Havertown, Pennsylvania. Participation in the band enables its members to practice individual musical expression as well as group cooperation for instruction and enjoyment.

The Majorettes, with Captain Gay McIntosh and the instruction of Mr. Lindquist, achieved a precision twirl and drill team. Their competition corps won the 1960 Bay State Championship and the Massachusetts State Championship. In addition to enthusiastic participation in the pep rallies and at the football games, the Majorettes performed at the Pops Concert and at the annual band exchange concerts with Haverford, Pennsylvania.

The Needham High High School Orchestra met during Friday organization period under the direction of Mr. John Nardi. The versatile nature of the orchestra enables it to interpret and to express the delicate qualities of a concerto as well as the volume and grandeur of a triumphant march. The repertoire available to the orchestra is by no means limited to classical arrangements. This year, the Needham High orchestra played calypso numbers, Spanish dances, and modern tonal music as well.

Meeting during Tuesday organization period, the girls in the Modern Dance Club learned self-expression through rhythmic movements to music. With the assistance of Miss Amy Brown the girls created their own dance interpretations to varied kinds of music. Combining ballet and free dance forms, they developed original expression which they demonstrated in this year's Girls' Gym Meet. The girls also put on a performance in cooperation with the Home Economics Department in May.

Rather than having a prescribed plan to follow, the members used club time as a workshop. Using both oils and water colors, most of the students concentrated on landscapes and still lifes. A few painted from life models. Mr. Enos discussed the paintings with the students, giving them constructive criticism. Next year Mr. Enos plans to limit the club to twenty members and to have more lectures and discussions.

The Ceramics Club met during Monday and Tuesday organization periods. Mr. Enos, the director of the group, has been reorganizing the ceramics program this year. He hopes to expand the department's facilities to include individual kilns for ceramics work. The informal atmosphere of the club allowed the members to criticize each other's work for mutual benefit. This year they have worked in nearly all phases of ceramics, including sculpture, and have experimented with different glazes. Mr. Enos plans to have the group explore the chemistry of ceramics in next year's program. The Ceramics Club occasionally joined its sister organization, the Painting Club, for discussions and projects.

Girls' Glee Club

Without the freshman class in the High School this year, the Girls' Glee Club was smaller than it had been previously. The decreased size of the group enabled director Henry Heald to teach the group more songs from a wider range of selections. Their repertoire included popular songs such as "Autumn Leaves" and a calypso number as well as the traditional holiday carols and choral arrangements. Susan Miller and Nancy Bassler assisted as piano accompanists.

Boys' Glee Club

The Boys' Glee Club met every Friday under the direction of Mr. Harris. Richard Clancy served as Librarian, distributing and collecting the music each week. The selections varied from spirituals to patriotic tunes and college songs. The boys performed for the Needham Public School Association, in the musical assemblies, and at the band's annual Pops Concert.

Choral Groups

Directed by Mr. Henry Heald, the Choraleers sang for the teachers' Club and in several school assemblies. They also participated in a musical exchange program with private schools. This year Mr. Heald deviated from the conventional method of sectioning the girls into first sopranos, second sopranos, and altos by intermingling the sections. The resulting blend of voices, which was particularly outstanding in advanced selections, maintained the Choraleers' Class A rating.

Boys Apparatus Club

In the Boys' Apparatus Club, which meets during Friday organization period, the boys are instructed in advanced skills on the various pieces of apparatus. Mr. Maloney and Mr. DeFazio give the boys individual attention with difficult techniques which would be impossible for the boys to learn during their regular gym classes. The purpose of the Boys' Apparatus Club is not only to instruct in advanced apparatus skills, but also to perfect form and balance on the different pieces.

Girls Apparatus Club

The Girls' Apparatus Club consisted of fifty girls chosen to be members because of their interest in and ability on apparatus. Meeting every Friday organization period under the supervision of Miss Amy Brown, each girl worked out a basic routine on her selected piece of apparatus. Those who became proficient exhibited their skills at the Girls' Gym Meet. The Exhibition Team, with their leader Mary Doran, developed more advanced routines. Through diligent practice the girls have increased their skill by improving their techniques.

Boys Leaders Club

The Boys' Leaders Club, under the direction of Mr. DeFazio and Mr. Maloney, meets every Tuesday organization period. The members of the club, including Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors this year, render many services to the Boys' Physical Education Classes as proctors, instructors and spotters on the apparatus, and aids to the officials at sporting events. The members of the club are chosen by the gym teachers for their athletic ability; their leadership talents; as well as for their interest, cooperation, and reliability.

Girls Leaders Club

This year Miss Brown and Mrs. Freno introduced into the Girls' Leaders Club a new program for those girls interested in a career in physical education or in summer playground work. Their purpose was to develop leadership qualities. Their work included a knowledge of the rules for officiating and scoring the various sports. The girls also had the responsibility of planning the Girls' Gym Meet, since program planning was another important aspect of their program.

Camera Club

The Camera Club, under the direction of Mr. Enos, consists of students from all classes interested in learning the art of photography. Led by president Richard Miller and vice-president Heiko Schudt, the group met one Friday a month. Given definite assignments, ranging from sports to still life, they studied and practiced the techniques of photography and developing, taking advantage of the school's photographic facilities. The Club also entered its work in amateur competition.

The Audio-Visual Club is a service organization in addition to giving its members the opportunity to work with the various electronic equipment. The club elected Bill Sugden, Alan Perrault, and Joe Hallein as their officers. Under Mr. Ashley Holt's supervision, members learned how to operate the movie projectors so that they would be able to take care of the technical details in showing movies in class. The Audio-Visual Club also assists the teachers in finding and ordering films.

rising ski enthusiasts accompanied by Miss Brown and Dr. Patterson. Members' ability ranged from advanced skiers to some who never had been on skis before. Miss Brown gave instruction to beginners in safety measures and fundamental techniques.

purpose of the JCL was to promote interest in the study of the classics. As a result, assisted by Mr. Muir and Mrs. Perry, the members have organized such programs as a Roman pep rally, Latin quiz program, and the annual Latin banquet.

This year's basketball team was one of the best Needham High has seen. Led by Captain Dave Svendsen, who averaged twenty-one points a game, the team was the first in the Bay State League to qualify for a berth in the Tech Tourney, the first such honor for Needham since 1956. The team went on to win the Bay State League Championship for Needham High for the first time in ten years.

Three players averaged in double figures: Dave Svendsen (21), Doug King (15), and Carl Johannesen (10.5), while Ken Bosselman's ball-handling was consistently good. With the potential underclass power, the team should be strong for several years, especially with the talented "rat squad." Highlights of the season came at Wellesley, when Needham rolled over the Red Raiders eighty-three to seventy-three, with Svendsen leading the way with thirty-four points; and at Braintree, when Junior guard Ken Bosselman put Needham into the Tech Tourney by hitting twenty-three of Needham's sixty-four points. The team won eight straight games before bowing to Walpole fifty-five to forty-six at Walpole. They resumed their winning streak, however, and carried it to the tournament.

This year's Varsity Hockey team had another successful season under the guidance of Mr. Maloney. The team began the season with a thrilling three to two victory over Framingham. The icemen then defeated Wellesley and Walpole before being stopped by Natick and Norwood with identical scores of four to two. The team then went undefeated for five consecutive games before losing a four to three decision to Walpole. Late in the season, Needham scored a victory over the first place club, Norwood, one to nothing.

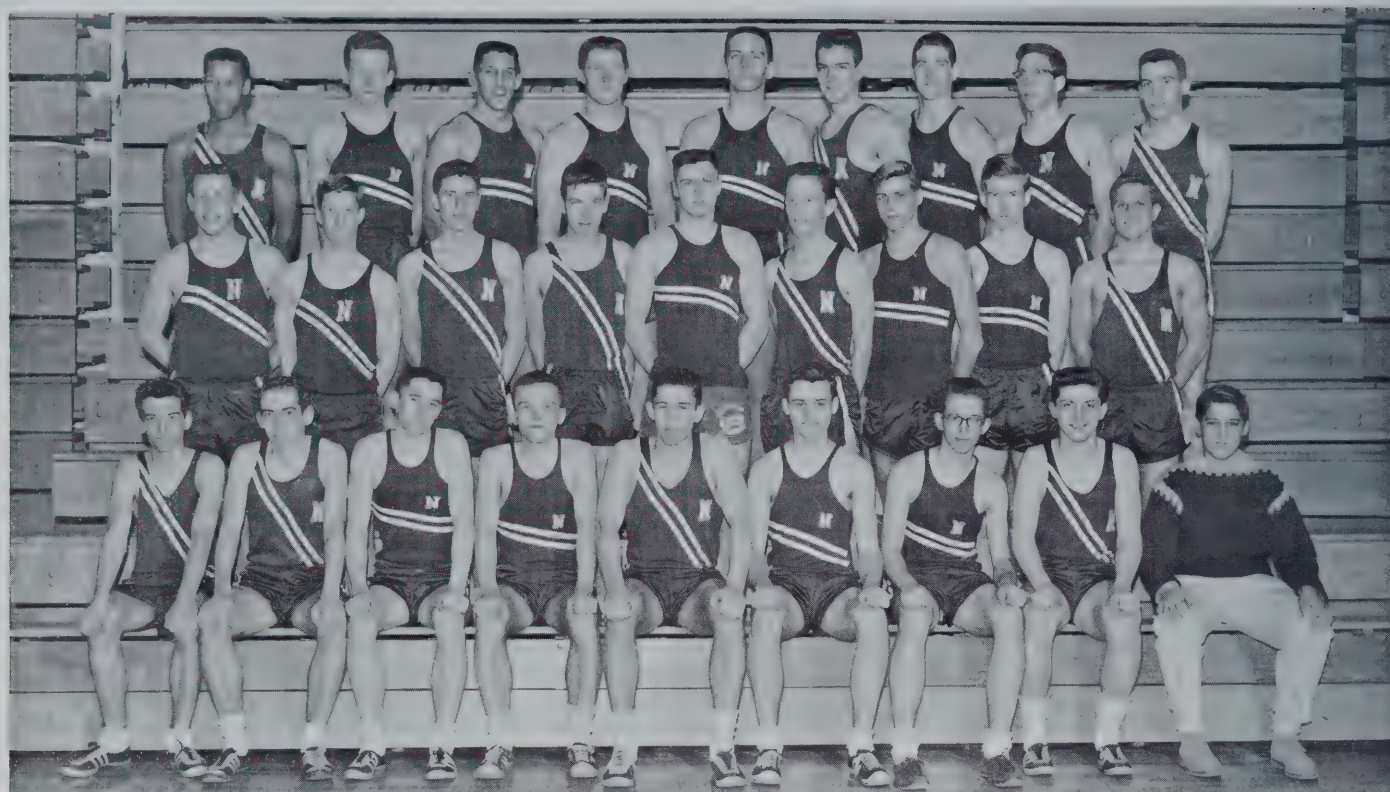

With the loss of several key seniors last year, Coach Maloney had to build from inexperienced players. Led by Co-captains Ralph Toran and Jack Hunt, seniors Bill Snow, Bill Roberts, Lenny Bacchiochi, and Russ Wise, aided by the underclassmen produced a fine hockey team for the 1960-61 season.

Keep it out, Russ!

Indoor Track

The Indoor Track team had a successful season with a record of four wins and one loss. In the State Championship Meet the team placed third. In this meet senior Ed McGlaston remained fifty yard dash champion, junior Jon Kirkland won the 1000 yard run, senior Bob Hendon placed fourth in the three hundred yard dash, and the relay team also won. The championship relay team consisting of Ed McGlaston, Jon Kirkland, Bob Hendon, and Captain Ken Linell set a new record.

Cross Country

The Cross Country team went through another undefeated season, bringing to thirty-two the number of consecutive wins over the past four years. This season also brought the one hundredth win for Mr. West as a track coach. In the Bay State Conference Meet, Needham ran away from a strong Natick team to retain the trophy for the fourth straight year. Jonny Kirkland edged favored Natick's Jim Santa Maria to give Needham a first place. Captain Charles Sisson, Bob Lamb, and John Hurley placed in the top ten.

Needham placed fourth in the State Meet with Kirkland placing among the top ten.

With more than half the team graduating this year, Coach West hopes for some new members from next year's sophomores. The only underclassmen on the team this year were juniors Clint Brown and Jon Kirkland, and sophomores Paul Patterson, Bob Pine, and Ed Sisson.

The Wrestling team enjoyed a highly successful season this year. It was Coach DeFazio's twenty-sixth year as Needham's wrestling coach. With the first four weight classes going undefeated, Needham edged such strong team as Milton and Tabor Academies and St. Mark's School. Co-captains Dave Bogar (110 lbs.) and Charles Sisson (127 lbs.) were among the undefeated, along with Bruce Brehm (115 lbs.) and Sam Davis (121 lbs.). Needham missed the meet with Exeter Academy, the climax of the season, because of a snowstorm.

The junior varsity also had a good record. They wrestled first-string teams from Milton, Braintree, and Wareham High Schools, which are just forming wrestling teams.

Don't let it in, Ann!

"Where did the ball go?"

The referee's whistle pierced the cold autumn air. With a final squeeze for their octopus mascot and the "T-e-a-m, team!" yell, Sally Scull, captain of Varsity Field Hockey, led her team down the field to the striking circle while Coach Amy Brown cheered them on from the sidelines. The Braintree game was the first of the varsity's two victories for the 1960 season. The Junior Varsity, with captain Marcia Stubbs, had a better record, indicating a strong team for next year. The JV's won one, lost one, and tied five. In spite of the losses, this year's season was memorable for the team—Playdays, Betsey and Sally's crazy socks, homework on the bus, bruised shins, and Marcia's black eye. Although the girls lost or tied the majority of their games, they followed Miss Brown's motto of "Friendliness, Fitness, and Fun."

Second Row: Mrs. Freno, J. Vogel, J. Hood, K. Kemmler, P. Chess, C. Feola.

The girls' basketball team had a highly successful season this year. With the aid of their coach, Mrs. Freno, the five returning varsity players, Bea Allen, Cheryl Feola, Kay Johannesen, Carol Kemmler, and Sandy Phillips, paced the first team to a record of five wins and only two losses.

Although the team lost its first game to Dedham, two days later they licked Walpole by a margin of thirteen points. In the Wellesley game, the highlight of the season, Cherrie Feola led the varsity to a fifty-three to forty-four victory by scoring thirty-three points. The girls wrapped up the season by scoring forty-nine points to Braintree's twenty-one.

Spectator attendance at home games improved this year, especially since the Cheerleaders were able to attend the last game to cheer the team on to a victory over Braintree.

Sports Extra

The Needham High School cheering squads had reason to cheer long and loudly this year as several of the teams had the opportunity to play in tournament competition. The wrestling team took part in the New England Tournament, and three of the six participants brought home trophies. The team placed fourth in the tournament, the top place for a Massachusetts team.

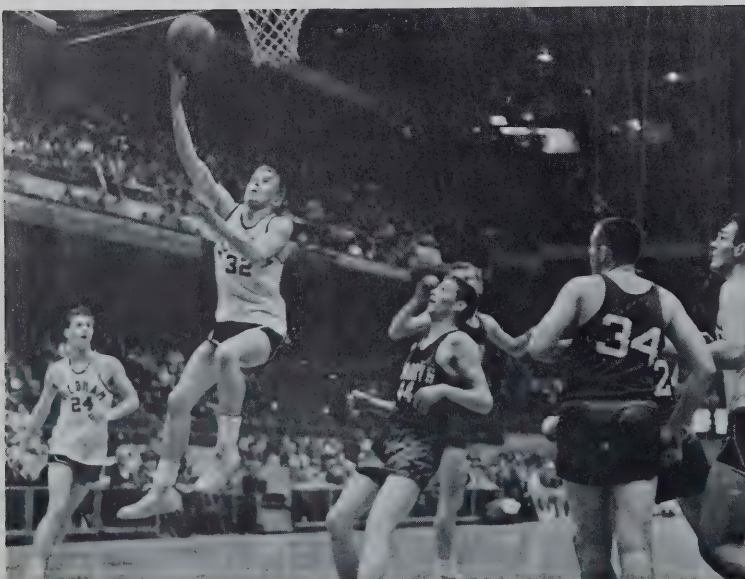

The basketball team, not to be outdone, won the Bay State League Championship. In a game between the Bay State all-stars and Needham, again our boys came out victorious. They reached the semi-finals of the class B competition of the Tech tourney where they were defeated by the champions-to-be.

The hockey team placed second in the Bay State League, and in the State Tournament reached the finals, where they were defeated by Framingham. Both teams represented Massachusetts in the New England Tournament where Needham was eliminated in the semi-finals by the championship team, LaSalle. In a consolation game, Needham played Framingham for the fourth time this year, placing third in the tournament by defeating the Flyers. The year 1960-61 proved Needham to be a school of champions.

This year the Boys' Tennis Team, under the able coaching of Mr. Chambers, posted an excellent record of twelve wins and only two losses; these coming at the hands of unbeaten and unscored upon Wellesley. The team had able leadership in co-captains Lee Arberg and Dave Isham. Next year the team has five returning lettermen plus capable newcomers from the Junior High who will battle for seven team positions.

Ah, an ace!

GOLF—J. Murray, D. Carroll, D. Stevenson, R. Fox, J. Catalano, E. Rockett.

The Golf Team under the guidance of Mr. Pelletier, had a fine record of 8-1-1. Needham defeated Walpole, the team that won the Bay State League title, and was in first place, but played poorly in a late match against Natick and lost. This defeat dropped them into second place where they remained for the rest of the year. The team was composed of one senior with six juniors who are hopeful of a good season next year.

For the fifth consecutive year the Girls' Tennis Team, the pride of their coach Miss Brown was undefeated. Under Co-Captains Martha Oakman, who was undefeated during her high school career, and Cathy Alexander, the girls preserved their previous record of victory. In spite of the fact that six seniors are leaving the girls are optimistic about the future seasons as there are many potentially skilled underclassmen players. As in the past, the team demonstrated good sportsmanship in all their matches and are looking forward to next year.

Girls' Softball

Under the coaching of Miss Chalmers, who is new to Needham High School this year, the Girls' Softball Team finished in a three-way tie for first place in the Bay State League with Dedham and Walpole. The girls compiled a record of five wins and one loss. Bea Allen captained the team through the successful season ably supported by the pitching of Sherry Feola. The girls expect an equally successful season next year as many of the mainstays of the team are returning.

Pictured above is the Company's Home Office in Needham Heights, Mass. The six manufacturing plants are located in Springfield and Gilbertville, Massachusetts; Barnesville, Thomaston and Forsyth, Georgia; and Senatobia, Mississippi.

From its modest beginning in 1865, the firm still steadfastly adheres to the high ideals of its founder, William Carter, who said, "Quality builds confidence, quality endures, quality pays."
